Autumn 2019 – Spring 2020

October 16th : *Resilience
by James Redford, 2017

A fascinating documentary revealing how toxic stress can have lasting effects on the body and the actions we can all take to build resilience and hope

November 20th : *The Connected Baby
by Suzanne Zeedyk & Jonathan Robertson, 2011

Babies are born ready to connect, as the interviews with leading UK scientists make brilliantly clear, in this 2011 documentary.

December 11th : *A 2 Year Old Goes to Hospital
by James Robertson, 1952

The 1952 classic by James Robertson provides startling insights into the importance of connection in supporting children's emotional health.

January 22nd : *There is a Bridge
by Ted Kay, 2007

Alzheimer's does not destroy the capacity for emotional connection, as shown in this ground-breaking 2007 film by Memory Bridge.
